March 1, 2010, Auburn Hills, Mich. -

Chrysler Group LLC today reported a slight sales increase compared with February 2009.

The company reported total U.S. sales for February of 84,449 units, a slight increase versus the same time period last year (84,050 units) and an increase of 48 percent compared with January 2010 (57,143 units). Chrysler Group finished the month with 197,080 units in inventory, a 44 percent decline compared with February 2009 (350,966 units). Overall industry figures for February are projected to come in at an estimated 10.6 million SAAR.

"Chrysler Group sales were up slightly this month, in line with the industry," said Fred Diaz, President and Chief Executive Officer-Ram Brand and Lead Executive for the Sales Organization. "Compared with January, Chrysler Group's February sales grew more than the industry average, reinforcing the company trend of steady, month-over-month growth."
